Source manuscript

The original lease book is held in the private library of the Earl of Derby at Knowsley Hall under reference C24 (formerly H45). It is a bound manuscript volume of around 60 vellum folios.

There have been several mentions of this Lease Book in important Manx histories. It was loaned by Lord Derby to the Manx Society in 1861 and was expected then to be transcribed and published in a future publication (see Manx Soc Pub XXIV). For some reason this never occurred however.

Additionally Dr. Roger Dickinson has researched the legal and financial context of the Lease Book and the publication of his findings is awaited with interest.

Transcriber's Notes

This transcription was made from my high resolution photographs of the original manuscript. It is a literal transcription in that I have retained the original pagination, spelling and abbreviations.

Any inserted comment or context is enclosed in square brackets []. Everything else should be taken as being part of the original document. An insert terminated with a question mark such as [the?] indicates that I've found a word difficult to read and have merely inserted my best guess at it.

The transcription was prepared for my website manxmanorialroll.com and further context appears there.

[Poem]

William the first

By bloody battels conquest And by fate
Rich Englands Crown and Kingdom I surprised
2 What my Triumphant father won I held
I taxd And polld this Kingdom more than he
3 My father and my brother kings both gone
With Joyful Acclamations I was Crownd
By wrested titels and usurping Claim
Through Storms and Tempests of tumulinous wars
